

Instituto Tecnológico Autónomo de México (ITAM)
Political Science Department
Assistant Professor

Position Title/Short Description

Title: Assistant Professor

Location: Mexico City, Mexico.

Deadline Date: Submissions by October 1, 2015 are strongly encouraged.

Salary: Competitive.

The Department of Political Science at ITAM (Instituto Tecnológico Autónomo de México) invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor in the areas of political economy and/or comparative politics, to begin August 2016.

ITAM is an academic institution committed to scientific excellence and oriented to the international academic community. Salary and teaching load are competitive with US research universities. All classes can be taught in English or Spanish.

Applicants must demonstrate a strong commitment to research and should possess a PhD in political science or related fields. ABDs will be considered if there is a reasonable expectation of completion by December 2015. Applicants may interview at the 2015 APSA Meeting in San Francisco. Selected applicants will be flown out for a formal job talk.

For questions about the application contents or logistics or to schedule an interview at the APSA meeting please contact Marta Cebollada (contact information provided below). Questions about the position itself may be addressed to Prof. Alberto Simpser at alberto.simpser@itam.mx.

Candidates should submit a CV, three confidential letters of recommendation (to be sent directly via Interfolio or from the recommender's .edu email address), a single-authored writing sample (e.g., article or dissertation/book chapter), and a brief letter indicating interest in and suitability for the position as well as research and teaching experience, to marta.cebollada@itam.mx.
